Advertise in the official Conference program book

Get your share of the $4 BILLION Illinois school products and services market. Make sure your company is the one they remember when considering purchasing decisions.

Every November, thousands of school administrators and policy makers gather in one place for the IASB/IASA/IASBO Joint Annual Conference. This program is the constant companion of everyone attending the event. It's also carried back home and shared with those who couldn't attend. If you exhibit at the Conference, your company also will benefit from advertising to help make your booth and products stand out among the hundreds competing for attention.
