Leading Leaders: The Job of the Board President LLJBP

Full-Day

Do you know that you impact the tone and expectations of the governance team and district as the board president? As a servant leader, the board president has the influence and ability to impact the quality of the board's work which ultimately affects the entire educational system. An effective president does far more than "run the meeting." A board president must keep the board focused on setting district direction; maintain open lines of communication with the superintendent, other board members, and the public; be knowledgeable of legal board requirements; galvanize the board towards collaboration and successful leadership, and much more. This interactive workshop will explore the board president's crucial role and responsibilities, including having productive meetings, managing board conflict, establishing effective communications, engaging in teamwork, and leading boards in today's educational world.

Presenters: Chris Horan, Horan Communication; Brian Crowley, Franczek, P.C.; Laura Martinez, Field Services Director, IASB

Morning Making Meetings Matter MMM

The only authority board members have is when they are engaged in a legally convened board meeting. Meetings matter...a lot! Join us if you dread your meetings and are wondering if, "There has to be a better way." This workshop will challenge you, whether you are a new or veteran board member, to evaluate your board meetings and learn best practices necessary to conduct an effective board meeting, which makes good use of valuable time.

Presenters: Sandra Kwasa, Board Development Director; and Reatha Owen, Field Services Director, IASB

Afternoon Setting District Goals and Direction SETGOAL

The board's primary task is to define and articulate the direction of the district. This direction includes the benefits the school district should deliver, thereby providing the entire system with clarity of purpose and a clear direction. District Goals articulate priorities and desired outcomes to accomplish its mission and vision for all students.

This session provides an opportunity to:

- Understand the role of the board in setting district goals and direction.
- Explore practical methods to develop and monitor goals that guide the work of the board.
- Understand how all these elements tie into overall success of the district.

Presenters: Perry Hill IV, Ph.D., and Reatha Owen, Field Services Director, IASB

Afternoon Re-Examining the Board's Role in Community Engagement REBR

Superintendents and school leaders communicate to and engage with various stakeholders such as parents, students, and staff on a regular basis to connect with the community. But how do individual board members and the board as an entity accomplish this goal? The past several years have brought a new level of community members and others engaging with local school districts. In this session, participants will have the opportunity to reflect on the current environment impacting public education and begin to reconsider how boards communicate with and engage their community to support student success.

Presenters: Sandra Kwasa, Director, Board Development, IASB; David Schuler, Ph.D., Superintendent; and Patrick Mogge, Director of Community Engagement and Outreach, THSD 214

Morning

Afternoon School Finance for School Board Members SCFIAM/SCFIPM

Join Bill Phillips for this informative, next-level look at Illinois school finance. Explore such topics as district bonding, property tax levy, annual school district budget, and the calculation and impact of the Evidence-Based Funding formula.

Presenter: Bill Phillips Ed.D., Former Field Services Director, Illinois Association of School Administrators

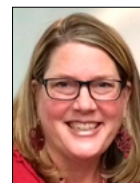

Morning

Afternoon Get Ready to Govern GGOVAM/GGOVPM

Though there may not be a lot of things that Illinois and Alaska have in common, one thing we know is once an individual is elected to the school board the real learning begins! How do we get this to work? What does it mean to govern vs. manage the district? How does the board work to develop mutual trust with the superintendent and have a clear understanding of their respective roles? Join Timi Tullis of the Association of Alaska School Boards for this engaging and interactive session.

Presenter: Timi Tullis, Associate Executive Director, Association of Alaska School Boards

Morning

Afternoon Partnership Is the New Leadership PARTAM/PARTPM

Join bestselling author and speaker Ty Bennett and learn how to create transformation in your organization, how to be a relevant leader who creates deep connection with people, and how honest communication creates collaboration and trust. Consider the adage, "Old ways won't open new doors." In Ty's view, that is the rallying cry for leaders all over the globe. The world is changing. Communication is light years from what it was. Expectations are at an all-time high, and tolerance is at an all-time low. It's time to open new doors. Adopt new skills. Challenge old mindsets. And embrace innovation. Ty Bennett has the tools you need to do all of these things and then some.

Presenters: Ty Bennett, Author, Entrepreneur
